When the boys stripped both looked in excellent condition. There was no time lost in getting ready, and at 2 o'clock this morning the referce, a well-knows athlete, called time.

McCue forced the fighting from the start, but his blows did not seem to be very effective. Kelly returning punch for punch and swing for swing.

At the end of the tenth round neither hove had a mark on him, and both would have been able to continue for a number of rounds longer but the referee awarded the bout to McCue, claiming that he had done all the fighting. Kelly and his friends objected saying it should have been a draw. Kelly will now probably challenge McCue to fight to a finish.
